Wonderful crag and historical reference point for climbing in Sardinia. Punta Pilocca has on the left side some beautiful routes of gray slab, while on the right wall there are pitches of pipes or slightly overhangings.

Avvicinamento: From Iglesias take the road SS 126 to Fluminimaggiore. At the km 54.100 follow a small road on the right towards the Antas' Temple. You drive for about 1.5 km to get to the archaeological site of the temple of Antas. From here, take the dirt road. When you arrive at a T-junction turn left towards Arenas. Going straight, after some ups and downs, you see the crag of Punta Pilocca on the left, locate a sign indicating Punta Pilocca hanging from a tree. From here a series of stone cairns leading to the crag via a steep path that climbs fairly straight standing to the left of the area Ztl.
